“Dining, Dancing & Dating” April Issue 2011

Seniors of today are looking for new and interesting ways to socialize. Our upcoming April issue features this most popular editorial theme.

The topics of dining, dancing and dating have proven to be some of the widest read editorial features presented over the years by Senior Living. Whether it is a social club, a volunteer project, dancing lessons, a special event, going on a date, or finding an enjoyable restaurant, today's senior wants to know what's going on, and wants to be part of the excitement. Because of the popularity of this topic, we devote a large portion of the April magazine to this timely topic.

We invite you to be a part of this special issue. If you offer a product, service or event that caters to socializing among seniors, don't miss placing your ad within our editorial feature. Even if you don't offer any of these activities, this will be one of our most read issues of the year. Placing your ad in this issue will ensure it is seen by thousands of interested readers.
